VOL. 1 ISSUE 10 OCTOBER 2019

RESULTS FROM OUR VAPING SURVEY

Over the past couple of months, US vaping-derived illnesses have been in the headlines. While the health agencies are researching the origins and causes of these illnesses, we are interested in how Mercy customers are viewing the situation. We conducted a survey among our customers in the store and via this e-magazine. Here are the results.

How likely are you to consume vaping products from a legal source?

How likely are you to consume vaping products from a black market source?

As is apparent in the survey results, nearly 8 out of 10 Mercy customers feel safe buying vape products from Mercy and other legal sources. Less than 1 out of 10 persons feel safe buying from a black market source.

This implies that most Mercy customers who have been buying vape products still feel safe buying them from Mercy. 3 out of 4 customers currently consume vape products and will continue to do so. If a ban is put in place by government authorities, most people said they would substitute flower, edibles, and beverages for vape. A smaller number said they would shift to concentrates and tinctures.

CIRCLE OF VIRTUES

For nine years, "Megatron" Calvin Johnson was one of the most feared wide receivers in the NFL, but he was battling the pain and stress of the ultra-competitive sport and saw his teammates going down the path of opioids.

Johnson disobeyed NFL rules and chose the path of cannabis, medicating often during his NFL career because he was in serious pain after each game. Johnson suffered multiple ankle injuries and concussions during his career, leading to his retirement.

In an interview with CBSsports.com, Johnson said, "When I got to the league, there was opioid abuse. You really could go in the training room and get what you wanted. I can get Vicodin, I can get Oxy. It was too available. I used Percocet and stuff like that, but I had my preferred choice of medicine. cannabis."

Johnson retired in 2015, at the age of 30, with the nagging injuries being a big reason why. Johnson is pushing to normalize cannabis in sports and is looking to open his own cannabis business in Detroit. You can find pain-relieving options, like Mary Medicinal's 1:1 Transdermal Patch. FEATURED EMPLOYEE: FERNANDO

Fernando is the kind of human that makes you step back and take notice of the incredible motor and care he has. Fernando is the most diligent member of the Mercy Family, getting here early, with the rest of the Packaging crew, doubling as Security and always willing to go the extra mile. Fernando's infectious smile pulls you in and gives you a feeling of joy and energy after a brief interaction. Fernando is always the first to help set up a meeting, or help you carry in a load of groceries from your car.

Fernando was a loyal patient before joining the team a couple of years back.

Through it all, Fernando exudes the Mercy Love and is willing to share it with anyone who wants to listen. Thank You, Fernando, From ALL of Us!

Fernando's Favorite Product: I've always been a big fan of the many different varieties of flower that Mercy offers. Especially the strains of flower with "Star Wars" names like Deathstar & Jedi Kush.

What Fernando is Grateful For: I am truly grateful for being apart of the Mercy Family. Words could never describe how amazing it is to even work here! Mercy has brought nothing but positivity into my life every day and opened so many doors of opportunity. Not to mention, Mercy is where I found the love of my life, too!

BUDTENDER BUDS: MEGAN & JASON

Budtender Megan: Megan comes to the Mercy family from Austin, Texas and is a testament that Mercy Love is alive all over the world. Megan's knowledge of the plant and care for humanity has made her transition to budtender seamless and thankful to be apart of. Megan loves her time in the garden, spending time with her fur babies, camping and traveling to music festivals.

Megan uses ABX's Sleepytime Drops, EVERY night, taking a full dropper and feeling the drowsiness within 15-20 minutes and giving her a full night's rest. Megan adds, "I also love the Camino Pineapple Habanero gummies, because they're sweet and spicy, like ME!"

Make sure to say high to Megan, the next time you're in the shop and ask for her recommendation. Thank You, Megan, for bringing your high energy and personable attitude to the Mercy family, we are thankful to have you.

Megan's Bud Jason's Favorite Product: Any Jetty Indica Cartridges! I prefer them to unwind, relax and chill. It's my alternative to a beer.

What Robert's Grateful For: My Family is what I'm grateful for, it's growing...my wife and I are expecting our 2nd daughter. I am really excited about that!
